Operational Clarity

Back in '97, in the projects of Staten Island, when I was attending Mount Carmel Elementary, 'dem dusty, dehydrated Neanderthals were convicted in their attempt to have me repeat the third grade. Whole time, I knew my mother forged my paperwork; they thought I was born in '88. Your girl was born '89. But the fact of the matter is, I wasn't the nigga who was gonna be an athlete or a lawyer.

I've been training for the dismemberment of the League of Nations. My life needed to be a demonstration of incontrovertible, ethical coherence under immeasurable stress, so when the future selects Ministers and Magistrates who are adequately and intrinsically competent to steer and steward an egalitarian society that is unequivocally aligned with natural and divine laws, my candidacy will bear evidence for consideration.

Spiritual Parasitology

If I were to share a conversation with a turtle on this island we call the Big Apple, it would address the compromised nature of human behavior that is exploited by a parasitic urge that systematizes extraction through a feedback loop that self-manages reproducibility.

I believe that Weitiko, a spiritual parasitic disease of which indigenous Turtle Island folks spoke of, has been organized through a structural hijacking of mammalian drives for belonging, hierarchy, and survival.

We are social beings who are deeply sensitized to compete for status and worthiness. I posit that narcissism is a relational logic that exists on a spectrum.

From a systems perspective, narcissism operates as a microsystemic relational logic; racism, patriarchy, and misogyny function at the mesosystemic level; colonialism and imperialism emerge as macrosystemic architectures of extraction.

The overlapping continuity of functions includes:

extraction,
asymmetrical power,
enforced disposability,
dehumanization,
and instrumentalization of life.

Micro: Interpersonal abusive dynamic

- gaslighting,
- isolation,
- dependency creation,
- moving goalposts,
- coercive control,
- emotional exhaustion,
- destabilization.

Meso: Institutional version

- bureaucratic opacity,
- contradictory procedures,
- impossible standards,
- selective enforcement,
- strategic neglect,
- administrative exhaustion,
- manufactured precarity.

Macro: Imperial version

- resource extraction,
- population disposability,
- surveillance,
- destabilization,
- narrative control,
- asymmetrical mobility,
- economic dependency.

Midnight Rant

When the pathogen of genetic-recessive patriarchal imperialism began to spread around the earth, the reductive perceptual framework of colonizers would gaslight the indigenous people of the earth, and over time, would plagiarize and appropriate their wisdom without citing the source.

In contemporary society, we know that the U.S. Army was able to identify a downed soldier in Iran, using some form of quantum technology to isolate his heartbeat in a cave, within a mountain. But when people can have syncretic, synesthetic, and pattern-rich interpretations of their environment, along with somatic sensitivity, we call them crazy.

Imagine having the natural amplification that these demonically possessed billionaires are impelled to create using robots, but you're the organic carbon-based upgrade with integrated software, and they call you fucking crazy.

Time is a spiral, and this bitch feels like a broken staircase.

Memo to Jeff Bezos:

Hey Jeff,

I trust that Colonizing Earth is meeting your intended metrics for the hour of the day.

I understand that you funded the 2026 MET GALA, and I also observed that there was a roach in attendance, a hyper-visible cockroach on the red carpet. I feel compelled to inform you that you have an extraordinarily eager Whole Foods Employee, who revels in her duty to hover over customers who live off of EBT as they attempt to acquire adequate nutrition and would never steal from you—Our Royal Jeff Bezos, obviously.

I'm under the clear knowing that Shantell transformed into her truest self to trespass your GALA because she is your MVP, your Most Valued Pickanny.

Okay? She will lynch any nigga you need her to lynch—okay? She's the Auntie Ruckus. She's the Aunt Jemima. She swear she Foxy Brown, Pam Grier needs to send a cease and desist order. The neural inflammation is on her face.

I share this report because I want you, Our Royal Jeff Bezos, to appreciate my efforts in cracking the case regarding the uninvited cockroach that attended your GALA. Her name is Shantell, and she is your most dedicated Slave Driver. I don't know her last name, but she look like Miss Piggy. It's a very distinct metabolic dysfunction, over by Columbus Circle.

Maybe she thinks that she's gonna get a bonus ticket when you try to fly out of the firmament. I don't really know, okay? A lot of people are deficient in iodine, so they don't think very coherently. They also don't know that niggas will always be niggas. But you know, a lot of people suffer from the pick-me syndrome. I believe the contagion of delusion is in the water. I think we should really filter our water, but that's a personal matter.

Storytime: 01

In 2001, when I attended St. Gloria's Secondary School in Lagos, during recess, my classmates and I would play co-ed rugby, and it was really exciting.

In 2006, when I enrolled at Smith College, I intended to join the rugby team:

After tryouts, I attended practice, and during a scrimmage, one eager melanin-deficient entity ran into me and bounced her ass to the ground. I seemed untouched by her questionable employment with gravity.

It was in that moment that I perceived the activation of white demons among the Smithie Rugby players. Instantly, I understood I could not return to the field.

We get to select which psychological horror film we are cast as the protagonist. I feel I'm more suited for track and field. I don't know... I consider myself a generalist. My primary sport is to master life.

Decolonial Q+A #23

Why did the United States of America treat the Black Panthers as a terroristic threat?

When we embody the etymological notion of democracy, we become ungovernable by tyranny.

Because dysfunction requires compatibility, our exodus from its tyrannical governance that occupies our existential sovereignty requires that we become incompatible with tribalism, sociopathy, and patriarchy.

Virtuous Victims

We fund fantasy
and mock the visionary.

We lobby for paternalism
and ridicule the sovereign.

We perform pity
and deride veracity.

Verdict

Institutions regulate

*Law and order would eliminate its function;
Unlike peace, violence is viable for harvest.*

The tide is drawn;

Fuck your word!

Contextual Contemplation

Neglect is not neutral.

It's a passive-aggressive, cost-effective, and plausibly deniable tactic to enact egregious violence while feigning confusion.

For example, structural genocide is insidious because it resembles metabolic warfare through processed and adulterated foods, chemical invasion through illicit drugs, psychiatric prescriptions, and underfunded, incompetent schools amidst economic precarity.

We think the root cause is mismanagement, poor corporate ethics, and a lack of accountability.

Nope—It's the mechanistic convergence of structural genocide.

Civilizational Diagnostics: Everything is Everything

The social pathology derived from colonial frameworks and eugenic capitalism instills the belief that differentiated dehumanization can remain self-contained, though the fallibility of that notion is perpetually revealed.

Between the Tuskegee experiments, psychiatric chemical incarceration, and GLP1 prescriptions, the commonality, structurally speaking, is that the formulaic mechanism for control consistently exploits the vulnerable with recursive reinforcement, legal insulation, and economic compensation.

From a bioethical framework, collective hygienic protocols are requisite boundaries that must be embodied through applied consistency and coherence to maintain homeostasis within our shared humanity.

The permissible sacrifice of any spectrum of life
jeopardizes the survivability of all that lives.

Testimony: 03

Not to be an alarmist, but the year 2025 was a horror movie, and the credits have not yet completed.

That said, I have a neighbor whose door faces mine. His name is Julio C. Carela. He has been spraying an unknown substance on my door for about two years. I believe it's a pesticide. I know the substance is neurologically corrosive.

I have exhausted every means of self-advocacy, from going to the ER, calling the cops, making complaints to the DOJ, SUS, HPD, DOHMH, and HUD.

I know he's spraying something because I experience a highly perceptible change in my somatic awareness upon re-entering my apartment.

I have observed that the scope on my door tends to get stained by a spray—this is not a natural occurrence. Although I was told to get a camera when I went to the 30th Police precinct back in May of 2025, the camera I purchased ran on dirty electricity. It triggered an extreme autonomic response. When I sought help from the ER, I was trafficked into the psychiatric ward for two weeks. When I requested that I not be harassed by NYP's mobile crisis team and to be self-discharged from the Farrell Medicaid clinic, I was ignored for a period of six months.

I then disenrolled from Medicaid and have yet to be discharged from the Farrell Medicaid clinic, after four months without health insurance.

That said, I intend to amass enough pennies to acquire a camera that does not trigger the dirty electricity side effects. (I'm not living off a Fulbright grant, 🙄.)

Obviously, I am experiencing the structural enablement of a sociopath who has targeted me since the beginning of his tenancy. Initially, he was using 311 to make noise complaints, so I experienced the habitual harassment of police officers who could never articulate that my music was loud. Julio C. Carela has since resigned to chemically poison me as a form of malignant harassment. This is femicide. And he is protected.

Although there is a CCTV camera aimed at our apartments, the building management Concord Management of NY, the building owner, Community League of the Heights, and the social service provider, Services for the Underserved, refuse to employ that technology to aid in the enforcement of my safety.

FYI, this is occurring now. May 8th, 2026.

Casting Director

I rebuffed the comicality of the provincial earth-role offered, but you was on some sneaky shit.

We ain't cutting the frame.

I'm calling the shots from the Director's Seat. You ain't never gonna stand above my feet.

Hope your trickery was sweet.

Intrusive Ideation: 038

The kaleidoscope mirror of institutional neglect is enduringly pervasive.

The same way: I submitted a grievance complaint to Smith College regarding Professor Caroline Melly's grading of 68 out of 100 for her anthropological class titled Transnationalism and Globalization in Africa, which I took pass-fail (requiring a 70 to pass) in the spring semester of my junior year.

I also submitted a grievance complaint to Bridging Access to Care, where I was employed as a peer specialist. However, every Friday when I, as a single employee, was on a weekly video call with the CPO, CFO, Director of Clinical Services, Head of IT, and sometimes the CEO and the Director of Social Services, over six months, I was verbally instructed to execute tasks that were not within my job description while being denied an updated job description.

Most recently, while asserting boundaries with a program director employed by Services for the Underserved at my subsidized housing, and while declining the legal floor repair from the building management, while concurrently seeking to resolve a neighbor's insistence on chemically harassing me, I submitted a grievance complaint to Housing Preservation and Development, Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, as well as filed a complaint with Housing and Urban Development and the Department of Justice.

In all three instances, I never experienced acknowledgement of my complaint, nor any procedural recourse. Instead, I was ignored by Smith College and entered my senior year with a seven-credit shortage. Bridging Access to Care orchestrated a constructive discharge, which was facilitated by CPO Jenna Tine, who had been the Vice President at SUS while I was the resident. Additionally, Bridging Access to Care falsely reported to the Department of Labor that I voluntarily quit. However, I had exhausted my FMLA and disability income, and due to the mandatory medical clearance required to return to the employer, I was not cleared. Lastly, as it pertains to my housing, the grievance complaints have resulted in three attempts at constructive eviction. But my complaints, now nearly a year old, have never been addressed.

Trump ain't doing nothing but turning off the Febreze.

The nation is beyond reformation.

This situation is catabolic.

I have no pity for we.

Decolonial Q+A #22

Do disproportionate patterns of intracommunal violence in lesbian relationships and Black communities emerge from similar social-epidemiological conditions?

If we understand the colonial framework required of eugenic capitalism as a psychological pathogen, marginalized identities are highly susceptible to internalizing and reenacting the structural conditions of disposability and dehumanization through lateral violence, trauma reenactment, and reactive aggression.

I'm not banging on the gates of heaven, but as an optimistic cynic, I do feel myself batting the sky with a broom.

Needless to say, neither church nor jury is worthy of your testimony. I'd encourage folks who are eligible to contact the angel realm and ask God's calendar whether you are worthy of an appointment.

I feel this timeline is gonna have extra friction and those who are anointed gon' need holy ointment because God knows we can't be ashy if we fit to elevate.

Pragmatic Accommodations

The future is a stick-up.

Patriarchy sells possession without protection; Citizenship in a nation of malignant destitution.

The slow burn of administrative genocide is less theatrical than a drive-by.

From an ecological framework,
I contend that rapists should cull
the pedophiles.

Then the warriors may offer reformation to the rapists or deliver their termination.

Humble Huddle

Feminism is a CIA ploy.

We need to crank the story

Intrusive Ideation: 036

I believe female psychopathy is misdirected or underskilled. I attribute this to internalized misogyny, which renders patriarchy insulated from our natural womb-defense mechanism.

Similarly, I believe people of the global majority have internalized the propaganda of religious morality, whilst the execution of institutional theology has been epistemic genocide, through the dynamic deployment of progressive structural atrocities that we've normalized while being convinced we can reason with the demonic psychopathy of paper sorcery.

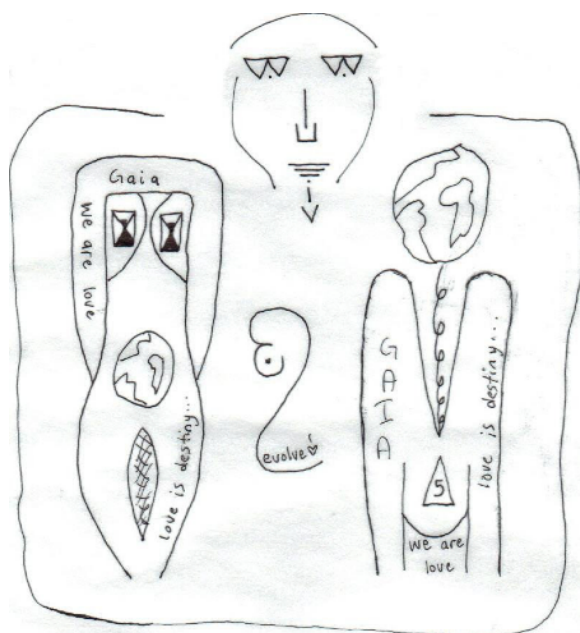

Virulence does not submit if it is not subdued.

In narcissistic systems, healthy, ethically grounded, coherent, and reasonable people become targets. But the parasitic nature of narcissism is that it is void and requires feed. Therefore, those who were in the boys club, those who were the golden child, and those aligned with the predation because they were not the target, become resources for extraction.

Look at White America.

The corporatocracy subscription model of life has claimed us hostages with our blood, breath, and time being the ransom.

The tide is fit to dock.

Tick, Tock.
